

TRAVIS ARMES

Gun Barrel City, TX • (214) 548-3544 • tkarmes@gmail.com

Software Developer

Technical professional and former Math & Science teacher with strong mechanical aptitude, troubleshooting ability, and hands-on experience maintaining vehicles and small engines. Combined with software development training and instructional experience, brings strong problem-solving skills, attention to detail, and ability to quickly learn complex systems. Seeking a technician or manufacturing role in an industrial environment.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Bastrop ISD 01/2021 – Present Math & Science Teacher

- Taught technical problem-solving, lab safety, and structured experimentation
- Improved student performance through step-by-step troubleshooting instruction

Dallas ISD 01/2017 – 01/2020 Science Teacher

- Taught systems thinking, science concepts, and structured lab procedures
- Maintained organized, safety-focused classroom environment

Personal Vehicles & Equipment Maintenance Gun Barrel City, TX Maintenance

- Performed routine maintenance including oil changes, fluid checks, batteries, spark plugs, belts, and filters
- Diagnosed mechanical and basic electrical issues using structured troubleshooting methods
- Repaired and maintained small engines and landscaping equipment
- Used hand and power tools for disassembly, repair, and reassembly tasks
- Developed strong mechanical aptitude through consistent hands-on repair work

EDUCATION

Java Full-Stack Bootcamp 01/2024 Tech Elevator

B.A. Philosophy University of Texas at Austin

PROJECTS

FormerTeachers.com

- Built and deployed full-stack application using Java, Spring Boot, Thymeleaf, and PostgreSQL
- Developed authentication, APIs, and database structure

Web Routers

Built client websites and managed full project delivery lifecycle

SKILLS

CORE SKILLS: Diagnostics, Fast learner, Hand tools, Mechanical troubleshooting, Power tools, Preventive maintenance, Problem-solving, Safety awareness, Team communication, Technical instruction